KICCA TOMMASI is a fine art photographer based between Argentina and Italy.

She holds a degree in Graphic Design from the Instituto Europeo di Design, Rome and a BA in Photography from the University of Westminster, London.

In London she spent most of her professional life working as a Travel Photographer and Art Director.

For one year she was Creative Director for Conde Nast UK, Contract Publishing division, where she oversaw the art of 4 magazines and pitched for new business.

In 2008 Kicca relocated to the city of Buenos Aires fascinated by its lively creative environment and she co-founded and run an independent theatre and arts centre, el Social Buenos Aires. Under her direction dance, plays, concerts and international workshops took place over a period of 2 years.

From 2014 till 2017 she was partner of FotoRuta, a company offering photography tutoring and photographic expedition all around South America.

Since 2018 Kicca is dividing her time between Buenos Aires and Italy and dedicates most of her time to fine art photography and moving images.
